Living Well Meeting Notes
Wednesday 2nd February 2022
Virtual Zoom Online

Many thanks to those who were able to join us for our first Living Well meeting of 2022 ☺

We had a really good presentation from Jeremy Mann from North Devon Council on the local housing issues and the council's plan on how they are working to address it. He has kindly shared his presentation with us which I have attached to this email so those who were unable to make it can have a look.

I mentioned in the meeting that the Mental Health Community Support Steering Group would be meeting for the first time on Tuesday 15th (next Tuesday). If you would like to come along then we'd love to see you! This group will be looking at the many ways that we as a community can support people who are struggling with their mental health; whether that is preventative activities, promotion of information or specific mental health support. We are open to ideas and as a first gathering it would be nice to float some ideas of what could be offered to support this.
If you know of anyone who isn't in this group but would like to come along then please do send them the Zoom details (below) so that they can join in ☺

Louise Flagg let us all know at the meeting that Devon Connect is up and running and they are inviting local groups to start uploading their information on to the website. If you'd like more information please drop Louise an email on cvs@ndvs.org.uk

The link to the website is here - Devon Connect - Connecting communities in Devon.

Also attached to this email is information from Natali at Sunrise about their upcoming event at Barnstaple Library and information from Mark Keeley about some tweaks to the One Small Step programme.

Apologies to anyone who is waiting for Netti's Health and Care Bill presentation to be circulated. Zoom seems to have eaten the recording so I will try and get this info to you another way.

The date for the next meeting is Wednesday 2nd March. I will circulate the Zoom link separately so it goes into your calendars ☺ I am still looking for folk to do presentations, so if you know if anyone who has a new/updated service which would be of use to people then send them my direction!
Many thanks, Charmain
